

Infant and Pregnancy Loss

--A special bereavement Group

This group is a supportive atmosphere to gently explore the emotions associated with infant and pregnancy loss. The goal of this group is to find support and strength in the experience of community with others who have had a loss. You are not alone. A baby's death is devastating. It represents an end to hopes and dreams of what might have been. Parents need to grieve. By knowing others feel similarly, you may feel less isolated and better able to cope with your grief.
